Helping Student Parents to Thrive in College and in Life

Are you a student and a parent? If so, you are juggling at least two major life commitments. We understand that it's not always easy, and we want to help.

The Young Student Parent Support Center is the place you can go for information, resources, support and camaraderie with others in the same situation. The center is supported by a generous grant from the Minnesota Department of Health and the commitment of Century College staff.

Program Membership:

- You must be pregnant or have children, and currently enrolled at Century College
- Open to mothers and fathers
- Student parents ages 18-25 encouraged to apply

Services and Support :

- Lunch 'n Learn – free weekly lunches including presentations on great topics for young parents
- Cooking with Your Coat On – monthly free lunch sessions to help you create quick, inexpensive meals for your family. Plus, you'll take home the ingredients so you can make the meal at home!
- Parents as Students Support (PASS) – meets regularly to provide support for one another as you face daily challenges of being both a parent and a college student.
- Financial, personal and academic supportive services designed to help meet the needs and challenges of young student parents.
- Family-friendly study space with microwave, refrigerator, computers and supplies for children – Rm E3575.
- EPIC (Empowered Parents' Incentive Card) Program – earn points towards incentives such as gift cards when you participate in Young Student Parent services and activities.
- And much, much more!

“As a full-time, first generation college student I have a lot to juggle, plus I am a proud mom to my one year old. It is important for me to have support in both roles, as I do with the Young Student Support Center, so I can successfully reach my goals.”
